I'm writing to you about the Licence Application by Mark Ainley from Enterprise Inns for the Navigation Inn, Old Warwick Road, Lapworth. WDCPREM00729. We live next door and my Husband and I feel that enabling the licence holder to sell alcohol until 0100 on a Friday and Saturday evening is too late. The pub is in a rural setting and has neighbours close by, including ourselves, with very young children and babies. We're not spoil sports by any means and plan to be very good and faithful customers to our local but we want to note our thoughts at the beginning. After all we live next door to the pub and want the owners to make a success of it and to do that we know that it's essential to be open! But it's the noise factor of music and late night drinking until 0100 and the aftermath at the weekends that is a potential problem and would disturb the peace of families in the immediate area. I come back to the point that it is in a rural setting and one that we want to keep peaceful in the early hours. The solution could be to keep the sale of alcohol to the weekday suggestion of 09:00 to 00:00?
